OIL MAGNATE TELLS OF AID TO SCHOOLS

Reviews Work of the General Education Board and Suggests Co-Operation.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—"If a combination to do business is effective in saving waste and in getting better results, why is not combination far more important in philanthropic work?" In this question is set forth the text of an article by John D. Rockefeller, head of the Standard Oil interests, published in the current issue of the World's Work. The general subject of Mr. Rockefeller's article is "The value of the co-operative principle in giving."

Mr. Rockefeller expresses the belief that the general idea of co-operation in giving for education scored "a real step in advance" when Mr. Andrew Carnegie consented to become a member of the General Education Board, "for in accepting a position in this directory he has, it seems to me, stamped with his approval this vital principle of co-operation in aiding the educational institutions of our country."

He goes on to describe in some detail the work of the General Education Board which he said has made or is making a careful study of the location, aims, work, resources, administration and educational value present and prospective, of the institutions of higher learning in the United States. The Board he says, makes its contribution averaging something like $2,000,000 a year, or the most careful comparative study of needs and opportunities throughout the country. "Its records are open to all. Many benefactors of education are availing themselves of these disinterested inquiries, and it is hoped that more will do so."

Some interesting general remarks on the subject of benevolence illuminate Mr. Rockefeller's point of view. For instance he says:

"To help an inefficient, ill-located, unnecessary school is a waste. I am told by those who have given most careful study to this problem that it is highly probable that enough money has been squandered on unwise educational projects to have built up a national system of higher education adequate to our need if the money had been properly directed to that end."

Or Roman Catholic methods. Mr. Rockefeller said that he has seen the organization of the Roman church secure better results with a given sum of money than other church organizations are accustomed to secure from the same expenditure. It is unnecessary to dwell upon the centuries of experience which the Church of Rome has gone through to perfect a great power of organization.

Commenting upon the great mass of appealing letters received Mr. Rockefeller says that four-fifths of them are requests for money for personal use, "with no other title to consideration than that the writer would be gratified to have it."

Mr. Rockefeller pays a warm tribute to the memory of the late Dr. William R. Harper, president of the University of Chicago, and makes without qualification the statement which will be surprising to many persons, "that during the entire period of his presidency of the University of Chicago, he never once either wrote me a letter or asked me personally for a dollar of money for the University." He goes on to explain that in this as in all other cases the gifts to the University were the result of the presentation of its needs "made in writing by the officers of the University, whose special duty it is to prepare its budgets and superintend its finances. It is not personal interviews and impassioned appeals, but sound and justifying worth that should attract and secure the funds of philanthropy. The people in great numbers who are constantly importuning me for personal interviews in behalf of favorite causes err in supposing that the interview, were it possible, is the best way, or even a good way, of securing what they want."

In the course of his article Mr. Rockefeller says of himself: "Criticism that is deliberate, sober and fair is always valuable and it should be welcomed by all who desire progress. I have had at least my full share of adverse criticism, but I can truly say that it has not embittered me, nor left me with any harsh feeling against a living soul. Nor do I wish to be critical of those whose conscientious judgment, frankly expressed differs from my own. No matter how noisy the pessimists may be, we know that the world is getting better steadily and rapidly, and that it is a good thing to remember in our moments of depression or humiliations."

PATRIARCHS

Militant Are to Meet in Fairmont Tomorrow in Annual State Session.

The Council of Patriarchs Militant, I. O. O. F., of West Virginia, will meet in Fairmont in the hall of Marion Lodge No. 11, at 2 p. m. on Wednesday, December 30. A number of the members of the order from Clarksburg, Parkersburg, Weston, Charleston, Wheeling and other parts of the State will be there. At this meeting the annual election of the State officers will take place.

On Wednesday evening at the Normal auditorium at 8 o'clock, the degree of Chivalry will be conferred on two Rebekah sisters, and at these ceremonies the public in general is invited to attend. The exercises will be of a most interesting nature, and the committee in charge announces that they will be free to the public.

JOHN MARSHALL

Is Boosted for Private Secretary to the Next Governor of the State.

John Marshall, of Parkersburg, law clerk in the office of the United States district attorney and secretary of the Dispatch-News Publishing Company, is spending a few days here with his wife, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Paull, at Wooddale.

Mr. Marshall is being considered, it is said, by Governor-elect Glasscock for appointment as private secretary to the governor, and has been highly recommended. Mr. Marshall's qualifications for the place are well known and it is said his prospects for landing it are good.—Wheeling Telegraph.

MAXWELL IS FINED

Carl Maxwell was arrested Monday by Constable B. W. Harbert of Shinnston, on a warrant sworn out by G. E. Crites, charging him with assault and battery upon Smith, one of the little Criteses. Maxwell was tried by Magistrate Gordon and found guilty and fined $5 and costs, which he was unable to pay. He was sent to jail for five days in default. Both reside at Erie mines.

A Constipation Remedy Free

There is no action of your daily life of greater importance than to see that your bowels move. They should move at least once a day naturally, and by that is meant without any help. If they do not move at least once a day you can consider yourself constipated and it is time you did something about it.

You will be glad to know there is a way out of the difficulty. Lemuel Landerdale, an old soldier at Quincy, Ill., Elmer McMillan, of Speed, Mo., the Monahan, of Stonehill, Miss., and many others were as you are now. But one day they awoke to the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin was curing their friends, so they bought it too and it cured them. Today they are loud in praise of it.

What Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin did for them it should do for you. Surely your constipation is no worse than theirs, one of whom had it since '61. It only remains for you to realize that this is not a temporary good, and what you want is a permanent cure; that purgative tablets, cathartic pills and such violent things make a great show of doing something, but do nothing that is lasting. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientific preparation, a laxative- tonic, a mild syrupy liquid that contains ingredients that not only cure the constipation, but tone the intestinal muscles so that they learn again to work without help. A bottle can be bought of any druggist for the small price of 50 cents, and there is a dollar size for families who have already found out its wonderful value in stomach, liver and bowel troubles, in old or young.

Send your name and address to the doctor and a free trial bottle will be sent you so that you can test it before buying. If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, Monticello, Ill.

Spend a pleasant evening at The Rink.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remediation. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this inflamed you have a humming sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Deafness is the result of a normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. C. A. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
